

Who does the PSC represent?

PSC-CUNY

Adjunct CLTs: 375

CLT Series: 500

Continuing Ed Teachers: 330

Graduate Assistants: 1,350

HEO Series: 5,200

Instructors: 40

Lecturers: 1,400

Non-Teaching Adjuncts: 800

Professors Series: 5,700

Research Professors: 25

Research Series: 80

Retirees: 3,000

START & CLIP Instructors: 110

Teaching Adjuncts: 11,000

Hunter Campus Schools: 150

Full-Time and Part-Time Faculty, and Graduate Workers

Educators in more than a dozen full-time titles perform teaching, research, guidance and departmental service duties. Graduate Assistants work in teaching and non-teaching roles. Teaching adjuncts in four titles and educators in another 12 part-time titles teach or perform related duties, but are hired by CUNY colleges as contingent workers.

Professional Staff

Higher Education Officer Series employees (HEOs) perform planning, research, coordination, administrative and professional duties to support CUNY offices, programs and centers. They are full-time workers with many different functional titles. Non-Teaching Adjuncts (NTAs) do similar work on a part-time basis. College Laboratory Technicians (CLTs), working in full- and part-time titles, perform a wide variety of critical lab functions, creative pedagogical support roles, and technical duties.

PSC-CUNY Research Foundation

Grad Center Field Unit 100

LaGuardia Field Unit 270

NYC Tech Field Unit 150

RF Central Office 100

Research Foundation

The PSC represents private-sector employees at the CUNY Research Foundation, a separate non-profit that supports and manages grant-funding throughout CUNY. Workers in the RF Central Office perform administrative duties and RF Field Unit workers engage in grant-funded research and programming.