The Dangers of Project 2025: The Right's Plan and its Impact on Workers and Unions

The Brooklyn College chapter of the PSC-CUNY invites you to a discussion about the dangers of Project 2025, the right's far-reaching plans and policies that would deeply impact our democracy. While Project 2025 touches every aspect of our society, we will focus on how it will affect workers' rights, unions and organized labor.

Speakers:

Stephanie Luce of CUNY's School of Labor and Urban Studies with recorded comments from long-time activist Ash-Lee Henderson who has worked in movements fighting for workers, for reproductive justice, LGBTQIA+, environmental justice etc.
